Watterson Serenaded
Louisville, Kr , Jane 9 The Watterson Democratic clubs headed by a band of musicians and followed by a concourse of citizens serenaded Henry Watterson at his home in this city this evening on his return from St. Louis. He spoke reviewing the work of the convention, the The Gazotte's Weekly Compilation platform, the ticket and so on. The folowing are the more notable passages in his remarks about the tariff and the platform: I went to the St. Louis convention with the single purpose to urge that the line of battle should be drawn on the message of the President and the position of our friends in Congress I met there a formidable array in favor of imiting our plan of campaign to a simand a general endorsement of the administration. There was from first to last no other issue raised. It is true that I true that I spoke for it in the national convention of that year, it is true that for four years I have put upon it a construction which ought to be justified by he plain letter of its meaning; but it is a straddle. I could not consent to this, but it is not true that I proposed any advance. On stone, me contrary I agreed to take the platform submitted by Scott and Gorman, word for word, if they would agree to strike out the first clause, which, without any qualidcation whatever, resflirmed the plat-form of 1984. There was no other difference between us, none at all, and while they made their argument with extra-$1 054,800 ordinary earnestness, plausibility and I am bound to say discored no spirit that was not that of honest Dimograts seeking the good of the country and party, and when we finally reached the conclusion ambodied in the pla form as perioded we stood as one man, and not as three men. But, fellow citizens, to rescue them from ders or New York Exchange in ordinary letter But, fellow city us, to rescue them from Currency by Express (at our expense) adnon so dangerous in their part of the country it would seem, of being caught in my company, let me basten to suggest that there may be some mistake about my opinions and purposes. I have certainly done all I could to fix the attention of the people upon the ruinous exactions of a tariff, the most unscientifically laidin all the world. I have saught to force upon the autnors of that tariff a redemption of the pledge they made was n they enacted it that it should not outlast the exigencles that called it into being, GUARANARED BY FOUR MACIONAL and it may be that in the course of the agitation I have not niways been very squeamish about the terms used to decrise wast the Supreme court of the United States itself has described as "legalized robbery!"

But never have I proposed rule in general content dent, no more than Carlisle, no more that my friends Gorman and Scott, would proceed in the work of reform who any to rash precipitation. I am the friend and steemen steer. Houge not the enemy of manufacturers to mining and industrial developments, if no finite sense of honest work for hones wages, and if the Democrats of New York Name Land Connection wages, and if the Democrats of New York Name Land Connection wages, and the connection wages, and the connection wages, and the connection wages, and the connection wages. ork, New Jersey and Connecticut would be what I wink from my own lips and at second hard from lips puckered to he consideration, they would near nothing to brighten or to injure them. BONHAM, TRX., June 9.—The Farmers | Wheat Opened Easy, Fluctuated Nar Alliance met nere to-day in secret session. Between 1500 and 2000 members of the organization were present marching into the city in a body with flags and banners streaming. It is thought the purpose of the meeting was to render ald to the Southern Alliance Exchange of Dallas, which recently collapsed. The suppost tion is strengthened from the fact the banners displayed by the different neighborhood organizations all bore the inscription "The Southern Atlance Exchange Shall Stand." Saveral members of the organization were approached on the subject of their meaning but all were me were completely estonished at the roportions of the crowd . It was the luention of the engineers that the session shou d be held at the opers house, but "a the building would not accommodate one half they acjourned to the Alliance cotton yard. The crowd remained in the city till 4 p. m. when headed by their brass band they marched off in order.
